David Rowe Expands Legal Practice as Certified Mediator

April 04, 2025 | (Time to read: 2 minutes)

Munck Wilson Mandala is pleased to announce that David Rowe, co-managing partner of the firm's Austin office and a seasoned trial attorney, is now a certified mediator. With 30 years of experience in high-stakes business litigation, David brings his extensive legal expertise to mediation, offering clients a skilled and strategic approach to resolving disputes outside of the courtroom.

David completed his mediation training per the Texas Alternative Dispute Resolution Act, further enhancing his ability to guide parties toward amicable resolutions. His deep understanding of complex commercial cases—including contract disputes, business break-ups, fiduciary duty matters, fraud, and antitrust litigation—positions him as a uniquely qualified mediator for intricate business conflicts.

Throughout his career, David has successfully represented clients across industries such as technology, healthcare, oil and gas, real estate, and telecommunications. His experience includes partnership and shareholder disputes, copyright and trademark infringement, trade secret litigation, and securities fraud cases. This broad industry knowledge allows him to mediate various conflicts with a well-rounded perspective.

In addition to his litigation and mediation practice, David serves as an adjunct professor at the University of Texas School of Law, where he teaches trial advocacy. He has been consistently recognized as a Texas Super Lawyer in business litigation and listed in Best Lawyers in America.

David's mediation practice will focus on helping businesses and individuals resolve disputes efficiently and effectively, leveraging his litigation background to facilitate fair and strategic settlements. His unique combination of legal expertise and creative problem-solving makes him a trusted choice for parties seeking alternative dispute resolution.
