Munck Wilson Mandala Welcomes Corporate Partner Scott Beckmen

April 28, 2025 | (Time to read: 2 minutes)

Munck Wilson Mandala, a national law firm known for its innovation in technology and business, is proud to announce the addition of Scott Beckmen as a new partner in its corporate practice. Beckmen, a seasoned legal advisor with nearly two decades of experience across finance, gaming, technology, and energy, joins the firm's headquarters in Uptown Dallas.

Beckmen's arrival brings a powerhouse combination of legal acumen and real-world business insight. From negotiating high-stakes oil and gas transactions to guiding digital entertainment ventures, his breadth of experience will bolster the firm's capabilities in key growth sectors.

"Scott is an outstanding addition to our corporate and securities team," said Larry Mandala, chair of the transactional practice. "His knowledge across entertainment, sports, and energy brings new perspectives and allows us to provide an even broader range of services to our clients."

Beckmen's diverse background includes a stint as chief legal officer of SimWin Sports, the world's first digital sports league, where he oversaw compliance, business operations, and regulatory affairs. He has also represented clients in the fast-evolving spaces of sports betting, gaming, and blockchain, along with advising private equity funds, investment banks, and major film studios.

"Scott's arrival marks an exciting step forward as we continue executing our 2025 strategic growth plan," said corporate partner Randy Ray. "His industry-spanning expertise and entrepreneurial spirit make him a perfect fit for our team and our clients."

Prior to joining Munck Wilson Mandala, Beckmen served as counsel at Spencer Fane in Plano. He earned his J.D. from the University of Tulsa College of Law and holds a B.A. in government from the University of Texas at Austin. He is a member of the American Association of Petroleum Landmen, the Association for Corporate Growth, and other legal and industry organizations. He also serves on the board of ClearRefining Technologies, a privately held clean fuel technology company based in Reno, Nevada.
