Overview

Technology has given us access to endless advances in medical science. Munck Wilson Mandala attorneys have been privileged to represent the inventors, innovators, and trailblazers who have brought their inventions and improvements in the medical industry to market, changing and saving lives and keeping loved ones with their families. We combine our science and medical backgrounds with our knowledge of the law to provide clients with the best possible legal representation in this highly competitive market and we help them protect their products and get them into the market.

Our attorneys assist with every stage and aspect of medical devices, procedures, and compositions. We are experts in a wide range of medical devices and life science products, working in conjunction with government agencies to make products available to consumers.

Munck Wilson Mandala has long-standing relationships with inventors, investors, manufacturers, and health care entrepreneurs. For more than two decades, our attorneys have represented a wide variety of industry leaders who have brought medical devices to market in medical science, sleep science, robotics, surgical equipment, monitoring equipment, spinal implants, and more.

Qualified attorneys are there throughout the entire product development process, advising clients on post-market strategy, compliance, advertising, and regulatory issues. Our comprehensive approach allows us to be integrated from product inception to consumer integration, making every step seamless for clients.

The team is well-versed in matters involving the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), and the Office of the Inspector General. Our attorneys offer experience in managing various medical device products in nearly every discipline of medicine. We provide the legal representation needed from formation to financing and our intellectual property professionals have advised on hundreds of patents for medical device clients.

“Watching our investments protect families and keep loved ones together is incredibly rewarding. Our team at Munck Wilson understands that these investments are personal and have demonstrated to us how personally invested they are in our success.”
