We advise on leveraged buyouts, joint ventures, debt and equity financings, majority investments, minority investments, as well as M&A transactions between private equity clients and their related companies.

Overview

Munck Wilson Mandala attorneys have the experience necessary to represent private equity funds, institutional investors, and public and private companies in all types of private fund transactions, including fund formations, acquisitions, investments, joint ventures, financings, recapitalizations, sales, and other exit strategies. We serve clients in a wide range of investment phases, representing buyout firms, limited partners, financial sponsors, lenders, and portfolio companies.

Munck Wilson Mandala works with private equity clients on sophisticated deals that require in-depth market knowledge, creativity, risk evaluation, protection strategies, and tax-efficiency. We can assist you in a variety of private equity ventures formed for manufacturing, distribution, product development, logistics management, and research and development.

In addition, we have extensive experience with joint ventures formed as separate legal entities as well as with joint ventures and strategic alliances operated through complex contractual arrangements and with one-way or multi-party strategic investments. The team also draws upon the firm's broad experience in capital markets and debt financing, mergers and acquisitions, intellectual property and licensing, corporate governance, tax, employee incentive plans and compensation, and antitrust and other regulatory matters.

In connection with such representation, we can provide advice with respect to structuring the initial investment, preparation of private offering documents and fund partnership and limited liability company agreements, legal and business due diligence, as well as drafting and negotiation of definitive investment and financing documents. We can also provide ongoing support to our private equity clients in their management and oversight of portfolio investments.

Lastly, we can assist our clients with various exit strategies, including leveraged recapitalizations, divestitures, and IPOs.
