Dear Will:

From 2008 to 2010, I served as your head lacrosse coach at Episcopal School of Dallas. During that time, you were a hard-working and talented attackman while a member of the ESD Lacrosse program.

When I recruited you to ESD out of middle school, we both had great plans for the program. In reflecting upon your last two years of lacrosse at ESD, my decision to assign you to the junior varsity squad was short sighted given the fact that your talent and work ethic would have contributed to our varsity squad. Your appropriate placement within the ESD program given your high lacrosse IQ, field vision, athletic ability and passion for the game was with the varsity squad. In addition, I allowed an external conflict to affect my judgment with respect to you.

Upon reflection I understand how my conduct was hurtful to you and was mishandled by me, and I want you to know that this was not your fault. I know you did not have the best experience that you could and should have had as a player on my team for which I am sorry and apologize.

Sincerely,

Kevin Barnicle
